To the Electors of Vancouver Island District.

ENTLE MENT — In response to the solicitation of a number of prominent gentlemen residing in the different settlements of your Electoral District to offer myself as a candidate to represent your interests in the itouse of Commons. I have, after mature-consideration, consented to do so, and have now the honor to solicit your suffrages at the approaching election.

The measures that a member of the House of Commons may be called on to deal with being different from those of a member of the local legislature, being in their nature more national, it is doubtless expected that I as a candidate should agover to at least some of them that and the should apper to at least some of them that more directly concern your interests. I will say, then that having been one of the carliest advocates of a Cambina transcontinental sadway, I should, it elected, consider it to be my paramount outy in the word making it a grand national success, to insist that the Torminus shall be at Esquinalt, and that the line shall traveres the entire outs-kastern Coast of the Island from Johnson

Straits
Under the Terms of Union with the Dominion, it is the province of the local legislature, and not of the Dominion Parliament, to decide as to the kind of tariff that the people of british Columbia deem to be best suited to their varied industrial interests, during the next ten years. Should, however, the question come before the bommion Parliament, I shall endeaver to have the tariff so mained as to meet with the concurrence of the agricultural, mining, and commercial interests of your district.

The Fideries along our coasts promise to become very prontable, and as the Dominion dovernment has agreed to extend its protection and encouragement to that valuable and important branch of industry, I will endeavor able and important branch of industry, I will endeavor to secure for your district its full shale of any aid that may be appropriated for that purpose.

Not being able at this time to explain my views at greater length, I will take an early opportunity to meet you personally and collectively in the different settlements, when I may bring under your notice other questions of a Provincial and Dominional character.

In concession, continues, if you should do me the holder to return me to the House of Commons as your representative. In degree myself of all this provincial and provincial to all this provincial and the set of Commons as your representative.

LILLOOST, July 16, 1871. Dear Sir :- The undersigned having full confidence in your fitness and integrity, request that you will consent to be nominated as our representative in the Legislative As-

We have the honor to be. Dear Sir. Rose, P. Rircuis, JAMES CROSIER, GLORGE DUNNE, and 56 others.

Gentlemen: Nothing can be more gratifygaining the approbation and goo accepting the nomination alluded to it your requisition. The next Legislative Assembly will probably be the most important that has ever met in this colony, and it behoves all good men to be vigilant, and to exert them selves to insure the successful working of Parliamentary Government, It may be found well in practice to remem-ber that the misrepresentations of those de signing men, who so loudly asserted that you were not qualified to exercise political functions with advantage to yourselves or to the country, have been signally refuted, and that twelve years of misgoverument proves tent to hold, or exercise, the office of governors with advantage or safety to the community political improvement from men in whos official career is not to be found material progress, when not identified with their personal profit or advancement. I confess that when speculating on the causes which led to the disastrous retrogression of the past, I am puzzled to account for the long continuance of a poli ical system, to which is traceable so much unmixed evil-a system containing within itself such active elements of ruin, which when considered in the abstract, might have been expected to put an end to its exist-ence much sooner. Nor indeed is this all. It be the duty of future legislators, in their post martem examination of the late ed disorders which paved a way for its final It is not probable that any modern English community has suffered politica: illa so pati-ently as the people of British Columbia. Tue amount of maladministration, and the extraordinary nature of official aggrandizement is perfectly astounding. A mored epi rab e collect tion of desposic follies can hardly be imagined. We have seen public servants voting their own salaries, fixing their own pensions, defying public opinion, and pursuing with malevolence, the popular representa t ves. We have seen mere adventureremployed as envoys entrusted with important s ate secrets -- adver turers who are universal y execrated, whom the people have never trusted and have long suspected—creatures who are to British Columnians what the hateful Claudians were to the Incient Romans Nay to crown this bumiliating drama, a perverse and apparently senseless superior authority. receive them with fulsome flattery, and applause and preferment is showered upon their heads in proportion to the mischief that they have done.

The singularly baneful and distinctive nature of these events, is pregnant with istruction and warding, and affords to every sons. The time appears appropriate for decisive; but they realize only half the danger which these events indicate, who see in them only official userpation on the one hand, and determined opposition on the other. The lesson which these events teach us is, that gross legislation and extreme ag tation are inseperably connected —that each is the blood relation of the other. Nay more, the danger indicated is to be apprehended by placing great powers in the ands of our governors without being secured by immediate not remote, certain not dubious const tutional laws that those power shall not be abused. It will hardly be disputed by men of can-donr sud experience that there are certain requisites indispensably necessary to the security and efficiency of all just governments. the most important of which I believe to be, freedom and security against wrong. Now I think you will readily admit that most civilized governments have succeeded pretty well in securing the people against wrong from each other; but to seehre them by laws against wrong from the government itself, is a problem of a far more difficult sort, which ew nations since the commencement of govproblem upon the solution of which depends | 200 HORNED CATTLE, the freedom and security of every existing nation against oppression and peculation and which from its importance commends itself to 20 HORSES. the anxious and impartial consideration of all 150 SHEEP.

That it is not the business of those who covern to compel public opinion to follow them. but that it is their duty to follow publie opi ion, is a canon of my political creed. Unfortunately the practice of those who have governed these colony, has been, both by precept and example to think differently, but he day is not far distant when the predictions of the advocates of justice and of resson shall b verified,—when the u just and barrarous aws which distranchised so many intelligent d worthy couzens shall exist only as evilence of the bigotry, and sorded ignor oce of those from whom they emenated,—when Confederation, the promotion of arts and science, the diffusion of useful truth, of ducation, of civil and religions liberty.

I carnestly trust that with the advantages forded by Conf deration and Responsibe Government our popular representatives may stock-rasing.

To far ignore local issues as to faithful 7 and prepared to be permanently reform the bad legislaion of the past, and by a comprehensive and iberal policy, inaugurate a new era in our political history and insure the prosperity and appiness of all.

Public Dinner to Mr. Langevin. We think it meet, right and proper that while Mr. Langevin is in our midst as the official representative of the Dominion Government, and being himself member of that Government, that he should be made the recipient of a public demonstration of some description, and probably no better plan could be adopt-We owe such a mark of respect to the honorable gentleman, first, as an individual member of the Dominion Cabinet, having important public duties to attend to amongst us; and, secondly, as a maniportan on the part of the people ed than to entertain him at a banquet. Dominion. But while we fully endorse the proposition to entertain the honorable gentleman in the manner suggested, we do not approve the action of those gentlemen who have taken the initiative with a view to carrying the proposition into effect. Of course if those gentlemen think proper to subscribe a sum of money wherewith to entertain themselves and Mr. Langevin at a banquet, no one has any right to raise objection to such a proceeding; but to call it a public demonstration, would at least be a stretch of the imagination. Without any previous intimation whatever some half a dozen gentlemen meet together in the private office of Henry Nathan, Jr., of Wharf street, and there, somewhat after the style of the Tooley street tailors, decide in the name of the citizens of Victoria to invite Mr. Langevin to partake of a public dinner, on his return from his trip to the Mainland. Now, if it is intended the entertainment shall be a public one, we suggest it is due to the public that they should be consulted as to the best method of getting it up, who shall constitute the committee of arrangements. and when and where it shall be held. It should, besides, be free from anything of the character of a political party affaira spontaneous tribute of respect to the gentleman himself, and of confidence in the Administration of which he is a member, by all classes of our FRENCH BENEVOLENT citizens, lirrespective altogether of those party lines which have been created by local issues existing at and before the admission of this Province into the Dominion. The Survey Party.

Extract from a letter of one of the Survey party, dated Kamloops, August 12: "Here we are at this place; we made good headway to Yale, but there our troubles commenced (as many thought them). There was arthing ready to take us on; we understood we were to ride-whose fault it was I do not know-so each man had to take his lanket and walk, and Barnard's stage took our extras. Off we all started, the first day to Boston Bar, all as gay as larks, singing when they got there in the evening. The next day to saites, 16 miles; got in there by dribs and drabs, not a song in the whole crowd; poor 0 - n quite done up; he said he was quite ill, and one or two more no much better. Next day Lytton-but I should tell you they had to send a light stage from Boothroyd's to carry all our blankets and some of the men. When we got to Lytton we laid over for a day and then made a walk in the night to the Ferry--that was the capper; the next day there were about 24 unable to can; those who could went on to Cornrive at Cornwall's, you would never have on the stage; to use one of the landlord's ex-pressions, he said—"such a set of bungry, pressions, he said—"such a set of bungry, soft-feeted devils, had never been in his house befure." We then came on to Savana's Ferry, and some of them when they got there could neither stand nor walk—some had all the skin off their feet, and others suffered the skin off their feet, and others suffered when I awake in from saidle abrasions. When I awoke in the morning I saw some of them resting on their hands and knees, they could not lie down, and really they were to be pitied. We then went up the lake in boats to Kamloops, and the T party started two days ago up the South Fork of the Thompson, to go to Eagle Pass. We sent a boat up the North Fork vesterday, and three tons of provisions, and I believe another is going, and we shall forlow with a pack-train of about 50 animals, and out friend 0 - n is promoted to be bull-driver! WIND. The latest American discovery appears to be the art of raising the wind-in the literal, not the figurative, sense. The New York papers report that at a place called Glen Falls, near that city, s farmer a few days ago, wishing to burn a fallow of about fifteen or twenty acres, ignited the brush at several places at the outer edge. The flames rushed toward the centre and assumed a rotatory motion, which increased in velocity till a terrific whirlwind was formed, which tore up small trees, root and branches, and frightened everybody who witnessed it. A column of smoke rose to so great a beight that it was visible for many miles, and a noise as loud as thunder accompanied this singular phenomenon.

MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS .- When the Solici tor General applied to Lord Chief Justice Bovill to have the claimant to the Tichborne baronetcy examined by a medical man, and Mr. Serjeant Balfantine objected on the ground that his Lordship had no power to make an order, the objection struck us (Law Times) as valid beyond a doubt. The case of a railway accident referred to by his Lordship is provided for by a recent statute. The Railways regulation Act, 1868 [31 and 32] Vic., c. 119, s. 26), says that whenever any person injured by an accident on a railway claims compensation on account of the injury, any Judge of the court in which proceedings power to make an order for a medical excommon law. The only other case in which such an order is made is, we believe, in suits Annual.—The steamer Gussie Telfair, for nullity of marriage, and, if the order is not submitted to, the court may refuse to hear the party thereby guilty of contempt. An Irish Royal Residence.

The English Liberals are very conscious, anys the Dublin Evening Mail, that Ireland has been made a reproach to their party. They hardly affect displeasure at the statement that their policy in Irish affairs has produced a harvest of humiliation and perplexity. The Church and Land Acts having borne this poison-fruit, they turn round now to try whether a Royal Residence may ripen to anything more wholesome. We suppose the thing more wholesome. We suppose the statement in the Morning Post is authorised, and that Prince Arthur will be assigned to us as the representative of Royalty. Mr. Gladas the representative of Royalty. Mr. Glad-stone makes this concession very unwillingly, and in great fear of the Manchester Utilitar-ians. As it is means, however, to cancel the irritation of the Coercion Act, and extinguish Repeal, they will storm and submit. But, if a Royal Residence is to be provided, and the Prince to occupy it, let us hope, whatever may be the extent or character of the social or political effects, that the experiment will be fairly tried, with sufficient generosity in the conception, and hencet truth in the honour and hospitable instincts of the Irish pec-

There is certainly, observes the Daily News (June 26), a prevalent feeling of annoyance that we should regard the residence of an English Prince in Kerry or Antrim a cure for all the possible ills that Ireland has ina household in Dublin, or in any other part of the country, is to convey severe and rather unintelligent reproach upon the character of the people. The welcome of the Prince would be warm, but would not be as frantic or as absurd as the reception accorded to that illustrious ancestor of his whose landing at Kingstown was commemorated by the erection of the most disagreeable-looking obelisk in the world. Prince Arthur might certainly find ample opportunities for passing a season of the year profitably and popularly in Ireland. If the Prince, of whose character and disposition there is every reason to think well, wished to take a serious concern in the affairs of the island; if he chose to make the idiosyncracies of the people a careful study; if he devoted himself to the encouragement of agricultural societies or art societies languishing for want of Imperial patron-age, there is a noble sphere of healthful activity open to him.

The Irish Times observes :—It is rumoured that the Parliamentary grant which Mr. Glad-stone intends to ask for the purpose is £18,-000 a year. We unbesitatingly declare that the sum would be ridiculously inadequated. A private nobleman can maintain social status on such an income; but not a Prince who is to gather round him a national aristocracy, and to take a conspicuous part in every pub-lic movement of undoubted national utility. We presume that the Prince's habitual resdence will be in or near the metropolis. It s there alone that he can call into existence the society which will act beneficially on the GENERAL COMMISSIO whole country, and exercise himself the per there alone that his proceedings would possess that eclat which would gain for them universal attention and invest them with San Francisco property, the Treasury build-ings and the old Masonic Hall, 100 feet front, on the east side of Montgomery street, be-tween California and Sacramento streets, for $175,000. He bought the ground originally Hudson's Bay Company.

Some days since we gave reports in HOSIERY & UNDERCLOTHING. connection with the probable future of this evening.

Sucker Flat, August 26-A lady named the above company. The Toronto Globe's Mrs. Hazel was found dead in her bed this London correspondent writes further concerning the company :

LONDON, July 6th, 1871.

You will remember that last autumn I called your attention to the grave controversy which had arisen between the Hudson Bay Company and their wintering partners. I then told you of the gal-lant stand which Mr. Isbister had made on their behalf, and of the legal opinion San Josz, August 26—The Santa Clara Which he had obtained from the Attorney Valley Agricultural Society commences its General and Mr Jessel, both of whom annual Fair on Monday next. chief traders had made out a clear case for compensation. The effect of Mr. Isbister's disinterested and public-spirited proceedings was two fold. In the first and gave them confidence in its altimate success; so much so that, as is well known, they deputed Mr. Donald Smith to represent them in England. Secondly he forced the subject upon the consideration of the directors, who, as men of honor, were compelled to look both the moral and the legal question fairly in the face; and I must do Sir Stafford Northcote the justice to say that, from the outset, he exhibited the most anxious desire to do justice to all parties. It was Don Carlos has arrived at Bayonne. His a wise thing for the wintering partners their representative; for although he was not permitted to speak in the very turbulent meeting of the shareholders which took place last week, yet his influence was beneficially exerted in the private negotiations which preceded that meeting. and which resulted in a compromise between the two parties. The directors indeed, came round to Mr. Isbister's views. They not only acquiesced in the statement which he made in his circular that there had been a breach of contrac with the wintering partners, the effect of which was to abrogate the deed poll, and to render a new one, with a complete reorganization of the trade, necessary, but they also agreed to recognize the officers' claims to the amount of £100,000, being only £20,000 less than the sum which

Mr. Isbister had estimated as being due from the company to these gentlemen.
While the Directors were prepared to act in the spirit of just-minded men, there was a party among the shareholders not at all disposed to deal with the question on its merits. A thoroughly determined opposition, fed by circulars, phamphlets and private meetings, was Great Britain and the United States have organized; and at the half-yearly general chosen S. Coste as third arbitrator to de- court the result was seen in a vigorous mobocratic demonstration. The verbawhich I now forward to you, will give your readers some idea of the scene. Sir Stafford Northcote was listened to with comparative attention; but Mr. Isbister, who, it was arranged, should present the legal claims of the factors and traders, provoked a storm. Undismayed, however, by the interruptions to which he was subjected, be presented the case of his friends and countrymen with sufficient fulluese for his purpose. But as I said before, Mr. Smith could not get a hearing. Perhaps, indeed, he may not have made the attempt, for what was the use of endeavouring to speak in a bear garden, in a perfect Babel of confusion and disorder? The directors were supported in their plans by a small majority, but the final decision will not be given till Wednesday next.

The Graman Army Streemens and the Was. A statistical report, published by the Medical Department of the Prussian Ministry of War, states that, during the recent war with France 101 surgeons of the Prussian army died, or were disabled fot a long time by wounds.
